MOANA THE MIGHTY
MAUI MAKES A FRIEND

By KALIKOLEHUA HURLEY

Illustrated by MEHRDAD ISVANDI

A special thanks to the wonderful people of the PACIFIC ISLANDS for inspiring us on this journey as we bring the world of Moana to life.

To my mom, the mightiest of them all. And to my love, CLK.

—KH

I dedicate this book to my wife, Sara, for all her support.

Well, today must be your lucky day,

because that hero is

Me, Maui:

THE GREATEST

demigod in the Pacific. With my magical fishhook, I've done

INCREDIBLE THINGS.

I PUSHED UP

the sky so humans could walk up

I CAPTURED

wind

and fire.

I PULLED UP

islands...

Oh, and I can also change my shape.

Supercool

S H A R K ?

Coming right up.

I used to live
on my very own
private island.

Being alone
wasn't so bad.
I didn't have to share my dinner. I could tell myself my favorite story
a MILLION times.
(PS: It was about me.)

Then Moana showed up, and it was Naturally, I became an expert at being a friend.

And I found out some of friendship's most mysterious rules right away.

For example, it turns out friends have to be Nice to each other.

Figure 1. A large, dark, rounded rock formation in the middle of a body of water, with a smaller, lighter rock formation visible on the right side.

In no time, I was becoming the greatest friend of all time.

You see, friends teach each other new things—like me teaching Moana how to be the world's SECOND-BEST WAYFINDER.

FRIENDS SHAPE.
Hey, when you're a master
fisherman, you can spare
a fish or two.

Having a friend means you've got someone to CHEER YOU ON.

Thanks for listening to my story.
Now you can call yourself

My friend,
too.
